Jeffrey J. Crow : Black Experience in Revolutionary North Carolina before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Black Experience in Revolutionary North Carolina:

Discussion of slave rebelliousness, African American religion, toryism among blacks, and blacks who fought for the patriots. Includes an appendix of North Carolina blacks who served in the Continental Line or militia.

About the Author Jeffrey J. Crow is the former deputy director of the North Carolina Office of Archives and History. He earned a Ph.D. from Duke University and is former administrator of the Historical Publications Section of the Office of Archives and History.
