Wong, G.T.K. : Compositional Strategy of the Book of Judges (Supplements to the Vetus Testamentum) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Compositional Strategy of the Book of Judges (Supplements to the Vetus Testamentum):

This volume represents an inductive, literary/rhetorical analysis of the book of Judges in which possible rhetorical links connecting the book's three major sections are examined in detail to show that the book may have been a unified composition rather than a composite work as many assume.

About the Author Gregory T.K. Wong, Ph.D. (2005) in Hebrew and Old Testament Studies, New College, University of Edinburgh, has lectured at the University of Edinburgh and has published numerous articles on the book of Judges.
