By John R. Beaman Jr.If you are into your ancestry and want to know if they served with North Carolina units in the Revolutionary War, this book is the place to start. It is a recent reprint (paperback) of a book first published by the DAR in 1932 and last reprinted in hardback in 1988. These editions are difficult to find and expensive.The book is a compendium of records including pay and pension records for NC soldiers that served in Continental or militia units. It is cross-indexed and has a name index to start your research. It is not perfect, often names are mis-spelled (very common at the time), but it is a priceless source of information.

By Texas BobbyAlthough the book covers the NC continental soldiers well, it is Very sparse in covering the NC militia soldiers (which interested me most). So to me it was an expensive expenditure for no useful information.

By John TatumGreat book, found all of my ancestors.

The most complete military roster for the state, this monumental work contains the names of approximately 36,000 soldiers from North Carolina who served during the Revolution. Service records include such information as rank, company, date of enlistment or commission, period of service, combat experience, and whether captured, wounded, or killed. This is a complete roster of soldiers named in both published and unpublished accounts, the information deriving in the main from such sources as military land warrants and vouchers, comptroller's records, state rosters, pension records, army accounts, pay rolls, muster rolls, and militia returns, and from the published accounts found in Pierce's Register, Heitman's Register, and Katherine Keogh White's King's Mountain Men. The entire work, with its various and sundry lists, is completely indexed.
