of the country were running things. They are united against us, the country class. We're stupid and the biggest thing they have in common is their absolute conviction that they are better equipped than the people to rule. The professor goes over the history of how these things came to be. It's a short book and if anything, things have progressed further in the direction Professor Codevilla laid out in the book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Nails it By Paul Babb Applying simple logic to the issues we see today, Codevilla provides amazing insight. A great, thought provoking read which keeps you reading for more insight. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. They consider it their right and duty to make decisions for "the people" because they believe they know what is better for every By Margaret A. Dugan This is a "MUST READ" for anyone interested in what is going on in these United States, and how we are, by not informing ourselves and allowing the Political Class to usurp our freedoms, are losing those freedoms. They consider it their right and duty to make decisions for "the people" because they believe they know what is better for everyone. This book is very readable, and the reader will be stunned and saddened by what he or she learns. Hopefully, it will motivate enough to get one involved.

In this profound and incisive work, Angelo M. Codevilla introduces readers to the Ruling Class, the group of bipartisan political elites who run America. This Ruling Class, educated at prestigious universities and convinced of its own superiority, has everything to gain by raising taxes and expanding the reach of government. This class maintains that it knows what is best and continually increases its power over every facet of American life, from family and marriage to the environment, guns, and God. It is becoming increasingly apparent that this Ruling Class does not represent the interests of the majority of Americans, who value self-rule and the freedom on whose promise America was founded. Millions of Americans are now reasserting our right to obey the Constitution, not the Ruling Class. This desire transcends all organizations and joins independents, Republicans, and Democrats into The Country Party, whose members embody the ideas and habits that made America great. The majority of Americans feel that the Ruling Class is demeaning us, impoverishing us, demoralizing us, and want to be rid of it.
